

21st International Conference FOSSACS 2024 Held As Part Of The European Joint Conferences On Theory And Practice Of Software

The 21st International Conference on Foundations of Software Science and Computational Structures (FOSSACS 2024) will be held in Dublin, Ireland, from March 25 to 28, 2024. FOSSACS is a major international conference on theoretical and practical aspects of software science. The conference brings together researchers from academia and industry to present and discuss their latest work on a wide range of topics, including:

FOSSACS 2024 will be held as part of the European Joint Conferences on Theory and Practice of Software (ETAPS 2024). ETAPS is a series of annual conferences that bring together researchers from all areas of computer science. The ETAPS conferences provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and the presentation of new research results in all aspects of software science.

The FOSSACS 2024 program will include invited talks, contributed papers, tutorials, and workshops. The invited talks will be given by leading researchers in the field of software science. The contributed papers will be selected from a rigorous peer-review process. The tutorials will provide an to new and emerging topics in software science. The workshops will provide a forum for in-depth discussion of specific topics in software science.

FOSSACS 2024 is an important event for researchers in the field of software science. The conference provides a unique opportunity to learn about the latest research results in the field and to network with other researchers. If you are a researcher in the field of software science, we encourage you to attend FOSSACS 2024.

Important Dates

- Paper submission deadline: October 1, 2023
- Notification of acceptance: December 1, 2023
