Bill Gates, Steve Jobs, Sergey Brin, Larry Page, Mark Zuckerberg, Jack Dorsey are the six tech titans who have changed the world. They are the founders of some of the most iconic companies in the world, including Microsoft, Apple, Google, Facebook, and Twitter.

In this book, we will take an in-depth look at the lives and careers of these six men. We will explore their early influences, their motivations, and their achievements. We will also examine the impact that they have had on the world, both positive and negative.

This book is a must-read for anyone who is interested in technology, innovation, or entrepreneurship. It is also a great read for anyone who wants to understand the world that we live in today.

Bill Gates

Bill Gates is the co-founder of Microsoft, one of the most successful companies in the world. He is also one of the richest men in the world, with a net worth of over $100 billion.

Gates was born in Seattle, Washington, in 1955. He showed an early interest in computers, and he wrote his first computer program at the age of 13. In 1975, Gates dropped out of Harvard University to start Microsoft with his friend Paul Allen.

Microsoft quickly became one of the leading companies in the personal computer industry. Gates's vision for Microsoft was to make a computer on every desk and in every home. He achieved this goal with the release of Windows, which became the most popular operating system in the world.

Gates retired as CEO of Microsoft in 2000, but he remains chairman of the company. He is also the co-chair of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, which is one of the largest charitable foundations in the world.

Steve Jobs

Steve Jobs was the co-founder of Apple, one of the most iconic companies in the world. He is also one of the most influential figures in the history of technology.

Jobs was born in San Francisco, California, in 1955. He was adopted by Paul and Clara Jobs, who were both working-class.

Jobs was always interested in electronics, and he built his first computer at the age of 12. In 1976, Jobs dropped out of Reed College to start Apple with his friend Steve Wozniak.

Apple quickly became one of the leading companies in the personal computer industry. Jobs's vision for Apple was to make computers that were easy to use and accessible to everyone.

Jobs was fired from Apple in 1985, but he returned to the company in 1997 and led it to its second golden age.
