

Marine True Story Of Duty And Heroism In Vietnam

This is a true story of duty and heroism in Vietnam. It is a story of courage, sacrifice, and the unbreakable bond between Marines.

The story begins in 1965, when a young Marine named Lance Corporal John Basilone was sent to Vietnam. Basilone was a natural leader, and he quickly rose through the ranks. He was soon leading a platoon of Marines in some of the most dangerous fighting of the war.

In September 1966, Basilone's platoon was attacked by a large force of North Vietnamese soldiers. Basilone and his men fought back bravely, but they were outnumbered and outgunned. Basilone was wounded several times, but he refused to give up. He continued to lead his men, and he eventually helped them to repel the attack.

Basilone's actions that day earned him the Medal of Honor, the highest award for valor in the United States military. He was the first Marine to receive the Medal of Honor in Vietnam.

Basilone's story is a reminder of the courage and sacrifice of the Marines who fought in Vietnam. It is a story that should never be forgotten.

In addition to Basilone's story, this book also includes the stories of other Marines who served in Vietnam. These stories are all inspiring examples of duty, heroism, and the unbreakable bond between Marines.

This book is a must-read for anyone who wants to learn more about the Vietnam War and the Marines who fought in it.
