Tommy Tiger was so excited. He had just gotten a new bike, and he couldn't wait to take it for a ride. He put on his helmet and rode out of the driveway, feeling the wind in his fur and the sun on his face.

Tommy rode all around the neighborhood, exploring the streets and sidewalks. He rode past his friends' houses, waving and saying hello. He even rode to the park, where he played on the swings and the slide.

After a while, Tommy started to get tired. He decided to ride home and take a break. As he was riding down the street, he saw a little girl sitting on the curb. She was crying because she had lost her teddy bear.

Tommy stopped his bike and asked the girl what was wrong. She told him that she had lost her teddy bear, and she didn't know where it was.

Tommy looked around, and he saw the teddy bear lying in the grass. He picked it up and gave it to the girl. She was so happy that she gave Tommy a big hug.

Tommy rode home, feeling good about himself. He had helped the little girl find her teddy bear, and he had had a great day riding his new bike.
