The Arabic alphabet can be divided into three groups:

- The isolated letters: These are the letters that are written by themselves, without being connected to any other letters.
- The initial letters: These are the letters that are written at the beginning of a word.
- The medial letters: These are the letters that are written in the middle of a word.

To write the Arabic alphabet, you will need a pen or a brush and some paper. You will also need to be familiar with the basic strokes of the Arabic script.

The basic strokes of the Arabic script are:

- The horizontal line: This stroke is written from left to right.
- The vertical line: This stroke is written from top to bottom.
- The diagonal line: This stroke is written from top left to bottom right.
- The curve: This stroke is written in a clockwise direction.

Once you are familiar with the basic strokes, you can start to practice writing the Arabic letters.
